Leadoff Man

Take your reserved seat, front row center, and get ready for our telecast. Coming into focus is Larry Johnson. The class of '51 broke tradition and elected the same president for four years. When asked how it felt to be chief man for the fourth consecutive time, Larry said, "Makes you feel kinda good. What I mean is — it's hard to explain! That's for sure! !!"

The Red Cross Club seconded our choice by making Larry their president. "Firecracker! Dynamite! Gunpowder! Boom!" Don't mind us; we only broke into a yell. We're so used to Larry leading our yells.

TELEVISION

PAUL HALLER is our veteran program co-ordinator. Gardening, hunting, and eating popcorn are his hobbies. We put him to work this year teaching government. "We have only one rule here: be ladies and gentlemen."

JOHN ARNOLD — Station GUS broadcasting a bit of sage advice, "Don't strain your minds, kiddies." This sports fan is hep to our social activities, teaches soc., government, U. S. History, and swats flies "like mad."

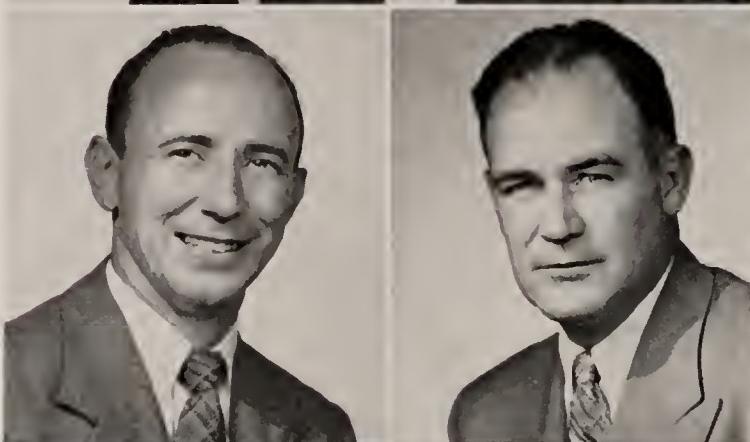

ELLA BANTER — Need some extra credit? Tune in her Books Bring Adventure hour. She keeps the ADVANCE staff on their toes by suggesting, "Now, don't you think it would sound better this way?"

LEONORA BLEKE — During the ten minute period, she broadcasts Dinner Winner in reverse. "The extras are sloppie — s." She directs biology make-up tests and instructs girls in sewing and cooking.

ROBERT CRUSE — Focus in Mighty Mouse's Mighty Five, November 28. He opens his quiz kids show in U. S. History with, "I'm thinking of an animal."

LESTER DOELL sponsors the musical background for our show. He rehearses period seven for Say It With Music. He encourages the Booster Club, the twirlers, and participants in band contests with, "Well, we just have to keep trying."

Directors of

URAL EDWARDS produces the Perils of Typewriter Tillie, Dictation Dick, and Top Awards for Top Sales. "Come into my parlor," said the spider to the fly."

CHARLES EICKHOFF is the power plant for the magazine sales campaign. At 11:12 listen to CWE's Detention Hour. Mr. Eickhoff speaks German so fast that his history and math students can't understand him. "That was a joke."

LETHA FALLS directs the Old Folks Home in Room 16 — better known as the Kindergarten Korner. She teaches Latin and says to her freshman English students, "Look out, you're spanking size."

DON FRYBACK emcees programs of wrestling, softball, and track. He broadcasts bookkeeping to almost a hundred Trojans. "Don't contaminate my freshmen," he warns the upperclassmen.

BETTY GORDON is famous for her History Revues. She likes bowling and basketball. She sympathizes with us in our woes by saying, "Now isn't that too bad."

Our Show

GLENN HAMMER — "May I have your attention, . . . p - lease." Absentees hear his Telephone Hour. He and Mr. Arnold attend sports events together. Is Maxwell House the best coffee?

JEANNETTE McCLURE — On station G. A. A. she can be seen from 11:30 to 12:00 A.M. broadcasting softball, basketball, and volleyball. When a question of rules comes up, she says, "Just a minute, I'll look in the book."

GURNEY MATTINGLY directs The Stars of Tomorrow the seventh period. For the rest of his day, tune in on Mattingly's Merry Menagerie of artists, speakers, debaters, declaimers, and magicians.

WENDELL NICODEMUS' famous sneeze that imperils your life should really open a who-dunit show. He conducts the Glee Club in Melody Time appearances and contests. Get to his study hall on time or — the jug.

ANITA OLDHAM, excelling in literary channels, directs such programs as Who Said That and Literary Cavalcade. Her sign-off line is "Fill in the blanks in Practical English."

GEORGE C. BOND is general manager and treasurer of our network. He determines our schedule; and, because of recurring crises of weather, he sometimes announces "No school today." Mr. Bond a familiar figure at our studios, for he takes an active interest in the success of our educational program.

ESTELLA PERKINS as chairman of foreign affairs, broadcasts in French, Spanish, and English. In English class, she looks up from her French book and says, "Oh, my gracious."

N. RAY REED's request is "May I borrow your pencil, please," Latest count of pencils is 2,000. He is a general repair man around school and supervises the boys in shop, architectural and mechanical drawing.

GEORGE ROLLER conducts Listen To This in room twelve with an eagle eye, runs study halls with an iron hand, and seldom issues a library pass. Anticipation of a 300 score in bowling puts a smile on his face.

DON WEAVER, popularly referred to as the Old Quiz Master, drills physics, algebra, trig, geometry, and general math into his always attentive audience. "This is a simple mental exercise," is his opening line.

RUTH WIMMER heads Excursions in Science, a favorite program, beginning at 9:15 daily. She also teaches many of our future drivers. The underclassmen scatter fast when she says, "Give me strength and forbearance."

ARTHUR E. ADAMS is a real joiner here at E.H.S. Art is veep of the Phi-Chem Club and treasurer of the GUS Club. Art belongs to Rifle Club, F.T.A., Booster and Red Cross Clubs, and the Advance staff. Evenings, Art works at Dale's Drive Inn.

A busy boy is RONALD A. BELBUTOWSKI. Ron heads the Advance staff. He belongs to the Phi-Chem, Red Cross, Commercial and GUS Clubs and F.T.A. Ron sports an E in YELL, varsity sports, and Advance. His outside interests are DeMolay and any work to make a buck.

Farming? Did someone say farming? Call ROBERT W. AXE. He's an expert. His interests don't stop at that; for he belongs to the Booster, Red Cross, Commercial, GUS, and Phi-Chem Clubs. Bob was also partly responsible for having gliders at the prom.

He presided over the Phi-Chem and Booster Clubs and lent a hand to GUS and Red Cross Clubs. He took the responsibility of being Advance sports editor; he joined F.T.A. He plans to teach math. His hobbies are "the same as most boys his age." — That's LEONARD J. BETLEY!

Musically inclined is CARL Q. BAKER, prexy of the F.T.A. and band. Carl was president of E Club and has held offices in our freshman, sophomore and senior classes. Carl has letters in band and Advance. Carl's outside interests are DeMolay and giving woodwind instrumental lessons.

Singing in her church choir and working at the YMCA are ROSA LEE BOSTON'S hobbies. Her club activities include Red Cross, GUS, and G.A.A. Sociology is her favorite subject.

Collecting stamps is the main interest of ROLAND BECK. He helped decorate for the prom, played intramural basketball, and would like shop six periods a day. Roland came to E.H.S. from North Side. He works at a cabinet shop in Huntington.

Reading, sewing, music, and many other hobbies keep MARY M. BRANDT a busy girl. Her favorite subjects are driving and art. She is a member of the Home Ec and Red Cross Clubs and served on the An-librum staff.

Managing the advertising and business departments of the Advance has kept DONALD T. BELBUTOWSKI busy. Leading yell three years won him an E. Don took time out from math and chemistry to belong to the Red Cross, GUS, and Commercial Clubs and F.T.A. DeMolay is his chief outside interest.

Pat is a member of Red Cross, GUS, and Glee Clubs. She served on the prom committee last year and is a flagbearer with the band. Ice skating and swimming are hobbies which PATRICIA A. BREINFALK enjoys. She likes to rack her brain with sociology.

Say, have you seen that fellow from Central? His name is JACK IRVIN BRUNSON. Jason is a member of Booster and DeMolay. He enjoys drawing and hunting. Jack likes to give pantomimes in English class.

One of the busiest girls in the class is MARTHA LOU COLEMAN, our junior Prom Queen. Marty is senior class secretary, veep of the band and G.A.A. She was prexy of the Y-Teen group in Waynedale. She is active in F.T.A., Red Cross, GUS, and Booster Clubs.

CLARIS BUSKIRK has a collection of 400 different perfume bottles. Her 4-H work has won her trips to Purdue and to Chicago. Bashful won an E in Home Ec Club. Chemistry problems are her favorite homework. Claris served on the prom refreshment committee and belonged to GUS Club.

Everybody knows MARY JO CHAPMAN as the girl who is always in a flurry. She has good reason to be in a rush; for Jo numbers her activities as N.F.L. treasurer, Advance news editor, GUS, E, and Red Cross Clubs. She says her favorite subject is journalism.

MARY SUE CLER belongs to Red Cross and Home Ec Clubs. She enjoys English IV and sociology best of all subjects. If you are going to any far away places, remember Susy's picture post card collection.

ROBERT COBB enjoys anything that will go 85 m.p.h. His activities include Red Cross, Commercial, and Rifle Clubs. Beating a drum earned him an E. The Wayne Propane Gas Co. knows Bob as an active worker.

DONALD REX CORBITT, who has played on the Elmhurst basketball squad four years, was veep of the freshman class and a member of Red Cross and Phi-Chem Clubs. He was top man on the Advance Business staff his junior year. Golf is Rex's summer recreation.

WALLACE L. COTTON came from Huntington High where he belonged to the Hi-Y and was on the football team. At E.H.S. he works in the cafeteria and belongs to the Red Cros Club. Butch also packs parachutes for the Indiana Air National Guard.

An outstanding feature of this small senior is his dead-eye shooting with a rifle. For this he earned an E. KEITH DEETER also qualified for the Red Cross and Phi-Chem Clubs. Looking at girls (just looking) is his hobby.

Movies are CHARLES L. DENNISON'S hobby. Jim is a member of the Red Cross, Booster, Phi-Chem, and Rifle Clubs. He played intramural basketball. He is often seen setting up pins at the bowling alley. His favorite subject is book-keeping.

ALICE M. SPRINGER is active in G.A.A., GUS and Home Ec Clubs. Squeaky worked on the Antilibrum staff. She has belonged to 4-H for five years. Alice likes to bang the keys in room 17. Her hobbies are bowling and collecting salt and pepper shakers.

Her 100-word award in shorthand makes MARYLYN M. STEELE's favorite subject shorthand. Working full time at the Dime Trust Bank is her hobby. She was also a member of Commercial and Red Cross Clubs. Marylyn worked on the prom decoration committee.

Keeping his father's restaurant running is KENNETH PAUL STIVERSON's first interest. Besides belonging to the Rifle and Red Cross Clubs, Paul saves time for bookkeeping, his favorite subject.

Riding her horse, Tony, is M. LOUISE STRATER'S hobby. Susie won her letter in G.A.A., was on the prom invitation committee, and has been a member of Commercial, Red Cross, and GUS Clubs. Typing is her favorite subject. Collecting napkins and doing 4-H projects have also kept her busy.

You can distinguish smiling, sandy-haired LEE TRAVIS in any crowd. He earned a worthwhile E from Rifle Club during his second and third years. Pink is also active in the Red Cross, GUS, and Commercial Clubs. He has a special interest in machines.

MORRELL S. TRAVIS likes history and . . . dates. He belongs to Phi-Chem, Red Cross, and GUS Clubs. When he's not busy with his hobbies of model airplanes, stamps, and escorting his O.A.O., he works at the Indiana Hotel.

When BETTY LOU TRUELOVE is mentioned, we look at the president of the Home Ec Club. (She has held all but one office in that club). Betsy loyally supports G.A.A., Booster, Phi-Chem, GUS, Red Cross, and E Clubs. She was a 4-H Junior Leader four years.

A busy lad is MARVIN W. WALDROP. Butch is veep of Commercial and GUS Clubs, and secretary of F.T.A. and Red Cross Club. Butch also earned his E in varsity sports; he played basketball for three years, besides track and softball. Butch is a member of De-Molay.

PAT A. WIEDELMAN has never had the jug. Studying sociology and belonging to Glee Club, band, and the Red Cross Club have kept Pat out of room 18. Playing the guitar is one of Pat's hobbies.

MARJORIE ALICE WATKINS is active in Red Cross, Booster, Commercial and GUS Clubs. Maw likes to scratch and type chicken tracks. Margie earned an E in Glee Club her second year. Square dancing and singing in trios are her hobbies.

LEONARD J. WOODWARD holds his own and an E as a point collector in intramural basketball. Len likes push-ups in gym and belonging to Rifle, Phi-Chem, and Red Cross Clubs. He works at the Fort Wayne Drive-In Theater.

ROBERT C. WEBB has an E in intramural sports. Bob likes any kind of math. E, Red Cross, and Rifle Clubs count him as a member. Bob was on the Advance business staff. He works full time at Howard Johnson's.

That energetic boy behind the pins at Waynedale Bowling Alley is JOHN C. WRIGHT. Jack belongs to the Red Cross Club. He enjoys bookkeeping. Jack was one of our most active varsity players and received an E for his effort.

We Spaniards know JOHN WEISENBURGER as Juan. He played on the reserve team two years. Booster, Red Cross, and Phi-Chem Clubs claim him as a member. John picked physics as his favorite subject and sports as his hobby. Juan sacks groceries at the Cress Market.

Elmhurst's all-round sportsman, RONALD E. YOUNG, played varsity basketball and baseball and competed on the track team. Ron is a member of the E and Red Cross Clubs. Study hall is Ronnie's favorite part of the school day. From 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. he works at Morell Motors.

Telling our tale of Annie has been a lot of work, but we've had a lot of fun. The staff, always ready to knuckle down to more work and new ideas, met every day the last period in room sixteen.

Of course, like every other Annie staff, you might say we put out two yearbooks — the one you are now reading, and the unprinted version. The one we didn't print helped to cheer us up on the days that we just couldn't seem to have any new ideas or ambition.

Co-editors of all script were Louise Strater and Marilyn Paxton. Joan Hanes, Betty Truelove, Leonard Betley, and Ron Belbutowski worked with them as associate editors.

Loyally following Smitty and the television cameras around were Joan Hanes, Leonard Betley, Alice Springer, Don Belbutowski, and Sally Sullivan.

Editing most of the script for activities and clubs was the work of the activities' editors Mary Jo Chapman, Betty Truelove, Don Belbutowski, and Bernadette Herber.

Staging scenes and determining the theme and captions of each program were handled by Mary Brandt, Betty Truelove, Wellard Hadley, Ron Belbutowski, and Marilyn Paxton.

The Toast of the Town program was in general control of Alice Kiel, Ron Belbutowski, Margie Watkins, Carl Baker, Evelyn Nyffeler, Pat Smith, Pat Fisher, and Art Adams.

In charge of all underclass TV programs were Alice Springer, Claudia Hoover, and Wellard Hadley.

Louise Strater, Mary Brandt, Donna Holle, Phyllis Meyer, Alice Kiel, Joan Hanes, and Marilyn Paxton typed all material for each program.

Larry Johnson served as subscription manager; and the home room agents were: Nora Ott, Home Room 13; Edna Schmidt, Home Room 14; and Martha Coleman, Home Room 16.

And, last but not least, was Miss Falls who had general control of all these able people. She was our check and mainspring in producing this, your 1951 Anlibrum.

Who Meets Today?

Louise Strater and Miss Edwards look over the calendar of activities at Elmhurst High.

Phi-Chem Club

Leonard Betley, President; Gwenyth Morris, Secretary-Treasurer; Art Adams, Vice-President

Physics and chemistry students of E. H. S. band together to form the Phi-Chem Club to further their knowledge of and interests in the practical side of science. Under the leadership of Miss Wimmer and Mr. Weaver, they toured these factories: International Harvester, Coca-Cola, Sewage Disposal, and the Salisbury Axle Co.

These active scientists started the first semester with a whirl by holding a combined Phi-Chem and Booster Club square dance. By industrial touring, heading the club, making projects, and maintaining a C average in science, the club members may earn an Indiana Junior Academy of Science pin. Further honors to try for are the Westinghouse Scholarship and the Bausch and Lomb Award.

Red Cross Club

Top Row: B. Kiester, G. Logan, A. Ferrell, M. Waldrop, P. Fisher, L. Johnson, B. Coleman, M. Imel, S. Snyder

Third Row: B. Gillespie, R. Knepper, N. Hike, D. Tipton, W. Norwalt, M. Imel, J. Carlson, D. Zelt, M. A. Kimmell, P. Richardson

Fourth Row: S. Gouty, V. Clenney, V. German, C. Roth, P. Briensfalk, M. J. Chapman, E. Scott, C. Geake, C. Saum

Front Row: J. Adams, B. Herber, B. Poorman, V. Grepke, C. Crabill, M. Hardisty

The Red Cross Club, the largest and one of the finest clubs at Elmhurst, serves the school and community in several ways. An effective Clean-Up Campaign made our school grounds a pleasant sight. At Christmas, the club members and their sponsor, Miss Ruth Wimmer, decorated the school. The halls were adorned with pine branches. Santa Claus and his reindeer along with a friendly, winking snowman held a prominent position.

Some members of the club are office workers, hall monitors, and library pages every period of the day. Virginia Grepke is chief of the monitors.

President Pat Fisher, Secretary-Treasurer Marvin Waldrop, Nancy McSwane and the entire club pushed the Race of Dimes home room contest and community service.

Glee Club

Mr. Nicodemus, Director

Second Row: A. Adams, B. Schoeph, R. Spice, M. A. Kimmell, J. Ellis, V. Clemney,
P. Jones, V. Wolf

Third Row: L. Jerraid, J. Springer, J. Mulford, B. Coleman, S. Lammiman, T. Wright,
N. McSwane, S. Bachler

Front Row: M. Imel, L. Southworth, P. Brienzlak, C. Noble, M. Walker, B. Polley,
A. Slagell, J. Fackler

Music hath charms is what the Glee Club proves when it meets the last period every day in Room 9. Under the directorship of Mr. Wendell Nicodemus, the club has very successfully participated in several choral contests. Their annual appearance in the Christmas program and Baccalaureate service is always eagerly awaited by their Trojan classmates.

One hundred points are required to earn a Glee Club letter. These points are acquired by appearing in contests, serving as an officer or librarian, attending monthly meetings, and for receiving an A, B, or C grade in Glee Club.

For their quota of extra activities during the year, the girls held a skating party at Bells and a St. Patrick's Day party in the school gymnasium.

Beverly Schoeph served as president for the past year. Martha Walker, Lucille Jerraid, and Arlene Adams assisted her as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively.

Dramatics Class

Back Row: T. Norwalt, G. Luce, T. Kunneke, R. Corbitt, S. Sullivan, M. Chapman,
P. Fisher, E. Nyffeler

Front Row: D. Holle, V. German, N. Ott, C. Buskirk, G. Holloway

Although handicapped by a small enrollment and an insufficient number of male students, this year's dramatics class will no doubt be long remembered. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. Gurney Mattingly, the class presented the three act comedy, We Shook The Family Tree; the traditional Christmas program with the assistance of the Glee Club, and several one act plays. Dramatics promotes an interest in drama and gives those students with acting ability a chance to improve it.

GUS Club

Art Adams, Treasurer; Pat Fisher, President; Tony Manes, Secretary; Marvin Waldrop, Vice-President

Although it is only two years old, the GUS Club has already made a name for itself. Under the supervision of Mr. Arnold, the students have had a full year of acquiring social studies knowledge and having fun.

Starting off with a grand right and left, the club sponsored square dances every Wednesday noon in the old shop building and in the gym last fall. Proceeds were used to finance scholastic medals awarded to the member with the highest scholastic record and also to the member showing the greatest improvement.

On one field day, they visited the city court and jail, the Cathedral, The First Baptist Church and the Jewish Temple.

Home Ec Club

Phyllis Waldrop, Vice-President; Carol Crabill, President; Evelyn Nyffeler, Secretary-Treasurer; Betty Truelove, Student Adviser

"Don't you want to buy some rayon plastic towels?" That's what you heard from members of the Reginæ Domi, who went all out to sell those towels. By selling such articles, serving on committees, working in the cafeteria, attending meetings, and by being an officer, a Home Ec Club member receives points toward an E.

Mrs. Bleke, the club sponsor, presented letters and awards at the annual banquet. Silver thimbles were also presented to members of four years' standing: B. Truelove, A. Kiel, E. Nyffeler, M. S. Cler, B. Herber, C. Buskirk and B. Schey.

Advance Staff

Standing: M. Paxton, Chief Copyreader; G. Morris, Feature Editor; B. Paxton, Point-keeper; M. L. Twigg, Make-up Editor; M. J. Chapman, News Editor; Bob Dikty, Exchange Editor; J. Cushing, Circulation Mgr.; R. Morrical, Assistant Advertising Mgr.

"Deadline for all stories tomorrow!" This phrase is well known to all editors and writers of the Advance staff. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ella Banter and Mr. Donald Fryback, the staff attempts to keep the student body up-to-date on all recent happenings, gossip, and social activities.

Staff members must earn 1000 points to get an E. The point system is: editor — 500; news editor — 400; feature editor — 350; sports editor — 350; pointkeeper — 250; home room agent — 250; chief copyreader — 350; circulation manager — 300; make-up editor — 300; business manager — 500; advertising manager — 350; photographer — 200; exchange editor — 250; messenger 6 points per hour, copyreading 6 points per hour, typing 10 points per hour, and all copy published 6 points per inch.

Commercial Club

Alice Kiel, Treasurer; Marvin Waldrop, Vice-President; Marilyn Paxton, President;
Mary Ann Strater, Secretary

These beaming (we don't mean it) people presided over the officer's table of the Commercial Club for the past year. This organization, sponsored by Miss Edwards and Mr. Fryback, is generally composed of students who are preparing for a business career.

The highlight of the Commercial Club year is its annual banquet held early in May. The presentation of awards for the highest averages in shorthand, typing and bookkeeping is made at this time. Also the officers for the following year are announced.

The magazine sales amounted to $5,315. Sales went $315 over the goal. It was also $415 over the amount brought in last year. Room 14 had $16.11 per capita and a total of $708.75. Room 16 had $15.10 per capita with a total of $479.20. Room 11 sold $539 or $14.20 per person. There was a great attraction also in the program — a drawing of the lucky name every day. Salesmanship certificates were awarded to every person selling $30 or more. Dave Meid topped the sales with $205.20 although Bev Schoeph won the campaign by the deadline. The top five salesmen included Dave Meid $205.20, Beverly Schoeph $191.50, Leonard Sheffield $106.40, Pat Fisher $105.30 and David Wagner $101.75. There were thirty-six other students who sold $30 and over. The home room agents who helped out in the campaign were: Room 4 Bonnie Kiester, Room 5 Barbara Allen and Carolyn Logan, Room 6 Pat Arnold, Room 9 Phyllis Waldrop, Room 11 Arleen Ferrell and Bob Greer, Room 12 Joyce Ferrey, Room 13 Ray Ort and Eugene Johnson, Room 14 Phyllis Meyer, Room 15 Bob Thurber and Judy Drew, Room 16 Louise Strater and Martha Coleman and Room 19 Bill Sims. Ron and Don Belbutowski announced the sales returns. Mr. Eickhoff managed the campaign. Bev Schoeph, Pat Fisher, and Jim Dennison earned a candy bonus furnished by Miss Edwards and Miss Falls. Magazine sales finance our assembly programs.

If you had your TV set turned in on Channel 20 every afternoon at 2:12, you heard Mr. Doell and the band "blowing up a storm" with their various styles of music.

Besides his very active grade school program, Mr. Doell has recruited many freshmen to expand the band. These new members have shown great promise and make the band even finer than before.

As in other years, our twirling corps has added to the enjoyment of our basketball games. They have shown their dexterity by presenting regular twirling formations to marches, a fine dance routine to "Over the Rainbow," and cutting a mean square dance routine to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw." The twirlers have united with the flag bearers for the impressive flag ceremony at each game and joined the band in the district marching contest.

After following our team through to the county finals, the band settled to work on its annual winter concert. February 4 found many present to hear this concert. They were treated to a varied group of numbers ranging from the swingy Dry Bones to Beethoven's fine symphonic overture, Eroica.

The first semester found the band enjoying a square dance. With Mr. Weaver, County Recreation Leader, as caller, the group made its merry way through the evening which was climaxed by a weiner bake at the school yard oven.

In the latter part of the year, the band prepared for the solo and ensemble contest held at Harrison Hill. Next came the district N.I.S.B.O.V.A. full band contest. After this came the County Band Festival at New Haven. Playing at commencement climaxed the band's public appearances.

The tooters selected Carl Baker, president; Martha Coleman, veep; Mary Lou Ferrey, secretary; and Irvin Gaunt (the band's varsity pride), treasurer.

Softball Team

The 1950 edition of the Trojan's softball squad had a fairly successful season. They lacked, however, the consistent batting punch which could have made them into another championship team. The squad went into the county tournament with a 3-2 record and promptly upset the highly favored Harlan Hawks, 13-11. However, Elmhurst was in turn upset by Leo, 9-7 and wound up the season with a four won and three lost record. A lot of credit should be given our two Dons, Fryback and Weaver, for the fine job they did coaching this year's squad.

Track Squad

In the spring of 1950 the Elmhurst track squad had a fairly successful season. In their meets they just about broke even, losing to New Haven, Concordia, Central Catholic, and giving up their County Track Crown to New Haven. They tallied 20 points to place as runners-up to New Haven's 50½ points. Rex Corbitt was the only double winner at the county meet. Rex also won fourth in pole vault at the sectional track meet and competed in the regional meet. In a triangular meet with Hoagland and Huntertown, he was a winner in each of the events he entered. His three big first places led Elmhurst to a comfortable margin in winning that meet. Elmhurst thinlies also downed Lafayette Central and Arcola in the 1950 season. These boys are the holdovers from 1950 and represent us this year. Ron Belbutowski and Rex Corbitt are high jumpers and dash-men. Rex also does the broad jump and pole vault. Bob Greer, Byron Yoquelet and Lewis Brewster are middle and long distance runners. Don Belbutowski, Bob Dikty, Jim Woebbeking are dash-men. Their 1951 season is just under way. Coach Don Fryback with the assistance of Bob Cruse runs off his meets in prime form.

Booster Club

The latest addition to the ranks of Elmhurst clubs may be the last but is certainly not the least in school spirit. Large numbers of hard earned Booster E's in our halls attest to the many activities of the club. Included in the numerous activities is a very extensive selling campaign. The Booster Club is responsible for the well-stocked concession stand at home games and the sale of the popular Trojan pens, mechanical pencils, and plastic pillows.

A very informative school handbook is a new project which the Booster Club has recently undertaken. This book will contain the courses offered at Elmhurst, clubs, school traditions, the correct use of the library, and any other information which the Boosters feel will benefit new students.

The 35 hard working Trojans who carry on these activities include the outstanding workers in the junior and senior classes. A faculty committee chooses the officers, who in turn select the club's membership. Sponsor Lester Doell is founder of the club. His efforts have been rewarded by the achievements of the Boosters this past year.

Don Combs, President; Art Adams, Vice-President; Mary Lou Twigg, Secretary-Treasurer

Rifle Club

The Rifle Club is a hard working self-sustaining organization. Under the leadership of Mr. Don Weaver and Mr. Charles Eickhoff, the club has constantly grown in membership and activity. The club, as yet, doesn't sponsor any social activities. Instead, it has a ten man team which competes in regular team matches with other schools and organized clubs. The members usually do more than hold their own in such meets. Other activities of the club are: the National Scholastic Match in which all members shoot against each other for a winner's medal and patch; the Hurst Trophy Match in which all high school teams of the state compete; and the Army Match, in which the boy members shoot for positions and receive medals for placing in certain positions. The club buys its ammunition at wholesale prices from The Director of Civilian Marksmanship. This practice makes it possible for the club to make some of the money needed for running a club. The club holds practice sessions after school every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. During these sessions the members shoot to qualify for bars. These bars are earned by shooting high scores consistently in four different positions. When a member has a total of eight bars, he receives a regular Elmhurst Rifle Club E. When you spot a member wearing this distinguished letter, you will know he is to be envied for his ability to handle a rifle.

N. Warner, R. Uptgraft, D. Combs, and L. Travis won fourth place in the state prone team championship. Nancy McSwane won first place in the state individual contest for girls.

The boys leave the gym to the girls on Tuesdays and Thursdays of the winter months. Mrs. Jeanette McClure supervises the good sportsmanship and athletic training of the Girls Athletic Association.

In GAA a girl can earn a letter by participating in organized and unorganized sports. When she has earned 250 points, she receives a letter. If she earns 350 points, she is awarded a plaque. It takes approximately two years or more to earn a letter. The club dues help pay for letters and the two social activities.

In the fall the girls played softball at noon. When the weather became unsuitable for outdoor activities, the girls pleased the boys at Elmhurst with something new by sponsoring a dancing class every Wednesday and Thursday noon till Christmas. All GAA girls helped in teaching the boys how to waltz and fox trot, turning out some wonderful results. After Christmas they began basketball and volley ball. The girls then finished the year with softball.

As the girls complete each unorganized activity, they hand in points for unorganized sports such as: bowling, swimming, bicycling, horseback riding, roller skating, and ice skating.

The following members have earned their letters: Joan Hanes, Edna Schmidt, Louise Strater, Mary Ann Strater, Betty Truelove, Virginia German, Alice Springer, and Joy Smith.

Fantastic color schemes made spots before our eyes at the annual class tourney sponsored by the E Club. Pink and chartreuse streamers and hillbilly figures decorated the right balcony presided over by the seniors. The Hadacol Kids or juniors decorated the left balcony in brown and black. The black and blue sophomores bragged of their speed in the name Supersonic. Did the freshmen brag or complain when they called themselves Jug-Bugs and flaunted chartreuse and fuchsia?

Bernette (Peaches) Giradot, freshman, and Ronnie High, senior, were awarded trophies for being the most valuable players and best sportsmen in this year's class tournament. Also, a bronze plaque inscribed with the name of the two winning teams was placed in the trophy case in the front hall.

The sophomore girls and senior boys walked off with team honors in an exciting three day tournament. The junior lads advanced to the finals by taking the frosh in the closest game on the male side, 28-21. Meanwhile, the powerful senior squad rolled to a 37-6 triumph over the sophomores and copped the championship by blasting the juniors, 24-8. On the feminine side, the games were a little closer with the juniors eliminating the sophomores, 22-12, and the frosh defeating the seniors, 17-10. In the most thrilling game of the tournament, the freshman girls outfought the juniors, 18-17, to take a well-deserved championship.

The E Club is sponsored by all faculty members who award E's. However, Mr. Eickhoff is chief sponsor. Bill Bird is president; Marilyn Paxton, vice-president; Glenn Meyer, secretary; Louise Strater, treasurer. On April 6 all present and past wearers of E's attended the annual dance.

Signoff Man

Carl Quinlin Baker, our signoff man, became president of the senior class early in December when Larry Johnson withdrew. Carl has proven to be a very competent class leader. During his four years at Elmhurst, he has held offices in his freshman, sophomore, and senior classes, in band, in F.T.A., and in E club. He was on the Advance and Anlibrum staffs. Bake was a member of Red Cross, Phi-Chem, Commercial, and GUS Clubs. Signing off, he says for the rest of us, "It's been fun!"
